

Sexual Health

Contents | Volume 20 Issue 3 2023

Special issue: Global evidence, impact and implementation of U=U

Guest Editors: J. J. Ong, C. Hui, B. Allan, C. Pulliam, M. A. Torres, D. Vuyiseka, B. Richman

Foreword

Global evidence, impact and implementation of U=U

J. J. Ong, C. Hui, B. Allan, C. Pulliam, M. A. Torres, D. Vuyiseka and B. Richman

iii–v

Reviews

Role of viral suppression in HIV treatment and prevention and its potential in addressing harmful laws and discrimination

Andy Seale, Rachel Baggaley, Lara Vojnov and Meg Doherty

181–185

Undetectable=Untransmittable=Universal Access (U=U=U): transforming a foundational, community-led HIV/AIDS health informational advocacy campaign into a global HIV/AIDS health equity strategy and policy priority

Christian Hui

186–194

Research papers

‘It’s like I have this weird super-power’: experiences of detectable and undetectable viral load among a cohort of recently diagnosed people living with HIV

Nathanael Wells, Steven Philpot, Dean Murphy, Jeanne Ellard, Chris Howard and Garrett Prestage

195–201

Impact of increased antiretroviral therapy use during the treatment as prevention era in Australia

Richard T. Gray

202–210

Familiarity with, perceived accuracy of, and willingness to rely on Undetectable=Untransmittable (U=U) among gay and bisexual men in Australia: results of a national cross-sectional survey

James MacGibbon, Benjamin R. Bavinton, Timothy R. Broady, Jeanne Ellard, Dean Murphy, Sarah K. Calabrese, David A. Kalwicz, Heath Paynter, Angus Molyneux, Cherie Power, Andrew Heslop, John de Wit and Martin Holt

211–222

Gay, bisexual, and queer men’s confidence in the Undetectable equals Untransmittable HIV prevention message: longitudinal qualitative analysis of the sexual decision-making of pre-exposure prophylaxis users over time

Daniel Grace, Emerich Daroya Mark Gaspar, Alex Wells, Mark Hull Nathan Lachowsky and Darrell H. S. Tan

223–231

‘HIV made me fabulous’: a qualitative analysis of embodied storytelling in film to address stigma, further understandings of U=U and advance gender equity

Azra Bhanji, Angela Kaida, Juno Roche, Edmond Kilpatrick, Florence Anam, Valerie Nicholson, Marvelous Muchenje, Lori A. Brotto and Allison Carter

232–241

Agreement of and discussion with clients about Undetectable equals Untransmissible among general practitioners in Australia: a cross-sectional survey

Jason Wu, Christopher K. Fairley, Daniel Grace, Eric P. F. Chow and Jason J. Ong

242–249

Short reports

Humanise and demedicalise U=U in Thailand

Nittaya Phanuphak, Jarunee Siriphan, Aree Kumpitak, Niwat Suwanpattana and Patchara Benjarattanaporn

250–254

U=U: the life force given by the mother's breast

Rhonda Marama Tamati 255–261

Time, scope and resources: why U equals U makes programmatic sense for Nigeria

Dorcas T. Magbadelo, Abimola Phillips, Pius Christopher-Izere and Bolanle Oyeledun

262–265

Case report

Let's talk about U=U: seizing a valuable opportunity to better support adolescents living with HIV

Sarah Bernays, Joni Lariat, Wole Ameyan and Nicola Willis

266–270

Letter to the Editor

U=U, PrEP and the unrealised promise of ending HIV-related stigma

Nathanael Wells

271–272

We thank ViiV Healthcare for generous sponsorship to make this Special Issue Open Access. ViiV Healthcare had no role in determining the content of the Special Issue and the decision to publish the manuscripts.

