Bibliography

This bibliography should be considered essentially complete although some publications that are not listed in online indexes or other available sources may have been inadvertently excluded. Extended abstracts from Lunar and Planetary Science Conferences (LPSC; and their predecessor Lunar Science Conferences, LSC) and workshops sponsored by the Lunar and Planetary Institute (LPI) are included and identified by an asterisk (). These represent an integral component of Ross Taylor's research efforts, may contain otherwise unreported research, and are archived online by LPI and thus readily available. Routine conference abstracts are not included although several notable extended abstracts (≥ 3 pages) are. Books are highlighted in a bold font.*
