

Supplementary Material

Grazing management of Australian native woody regeneration as an effective nature-based climate-change solution

C. M. Waters<sup>A,B,*</sup>, R. B. Hacker<sup>C</sup>, A. Sekaran<sup>B</sup> and A. R. Grant<sup>D</sup>

<sup>A</sup>GreenCollar, 3 Hickson Road, The Rocks Sydney, NSW 2000, Australia

<sup>B</sup>Hawkesbury Institute for the Environment, Western Sydney University, Penrith, NSW 2751, Australia

<sup>C</sup>Present address: Ron Hacker Rangeland Consulting Services, 29 Edward Street, Tenambit, NSW, Australia

<sup>D</sup>Present address: PO Box 1591, Young, NSW 2594, Australia

*Correspondence to: Email: cathleen.waters@greencollargroup.com.au

Supplementary Fig. S1. The relative proportion of feed in diets of major domestic livestock for a poplar box-mulga woodlands of western NSW. Adapted from Pahl 2019 (Table 2).

